Texas Winter Weather Alert

As our community prepares for the cold weather event forecasted to impact the Texas region beginning later today, San Patricio County Judge David R. Krebs would like to remind all to make necessary preparations now for this event.

- Take steps to protect pets, plants, and pipes.
- Consider reducing energy consumption starting late Wednesday night and into the weekend. This will help our Texas power grid better handle this winter weather.
- Please keep informed by checking local weather forecasts for updated information.

Judge Krebs will continue to monitor weather conditions. Further updates related to County Facilities will be posted to San Patricio County's website.
